Hard-to-Reach Communities Engagement Playbook

Community Outreach · TOOLKIT · Version 1.0

A practical playbook for building trust and sustained engagement with communities that services struggle to reach.

Overview

Drawing on field experience across multiple boroughs, this playbook moves beyond leaflets and pop-ups to a relationship-led model of engagement. It covers community mapping, trusted-messenger recruitment, and measuring genuine reach rather than footfall.

What's inside

A set of practical tools you can use independently or together

- Checklists and templates for each stage of the work
- Facilitation notes for running sessions with your team
- An evaluation plan so you can measure impact

How to use it

Pick the tools that fit your context rather than working through everything mechanically. Run the facilitation sessions with the people who will deliver the work, and build the evaluation in from the start.
